

BIR museum – A tribute!
“Creation is the result of imagination”

The Barnard institute museum was a recent (2006 – 2007) creation, out of the vision of one of the institute’s most motivated former director – Prof.T.S.Swaminathan

It was his dream to create a lasting heritage of the vast collection of Barnard institute’s cases, so as to benefit not only BIR residents, but students from all over.

Prof.TSS and his assistant professor late Dr.R.Ravi together formulated a systematic approach to categorize the entire film collection into various systems as long cases, short cases, spotters etc – a back breaking work which was carried out for the first time in this time-honoured establishment. With the help of a then final year resident, Anita .S, this taxing labour spanned almost 6 months (late 2006 to early 2007) and now the end result stands proudly in the institute – an invaluable asset to our alma mater, and has become legendary country wide.

Creation is difficult – carrying on the work is easier but still important. And so through the successive directors, films are being added and the priceless collection grows every passing day....

FIFTH BIR PG PRIMER COURSE

[EXCLUSIVE PRACTICAL PG COURSE]

3rd to 5th, FEBRUARY 2012

Dear Sir / Madam,

Greetings to you all.

Following the success of the previous BIR PG Primer courses, we are pleased to announce the FIFTH BIR PG PRIMER COURSE from 3rd to 5th, February 2012 at Barnard Institute of Radiology, Government General Hospital, Madras Medical College.

The teaching course has been designed as a three day intensive coaching program, to build on basic knowledge in order to assist final year radiology postgraduate candidates preparing for their final examination.

The course concentrates on clinical applications, systematic approach to image interpretations and pitfalls.

The program consists of special focus sessions, film reading sessions and small tutorial groups (maximum 10 delegates per group).

This provides an opportunity for each student to participate in image interpretation under expert guidance, and ensures two way communication. Sessions are designed to conform as closely as possible to the examination format. Spotters, Short cases and Long cases will be covered in separate days. There will be continuing feedback assessment throughout the course and a final assessment.

This 3 day premier course is highly recommended for all radiology trainees as the emphasis is on small group tutorials instead of lectures. This is the first of its kind in India.

We solicit your kind cooperation and participation to make the course a grand success.
